7. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b)-(c) and 1400(b) because defendants maintain a regular and established place of business and have committed infringing acts in this district.
8. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Denso by virtue of, inter alia, (i) maintaining a regular place of business and a continuing presence in this jurisdiction; (ii) committing at least a portion of the infringements alleged herein within this district; and (iii) regularly doing business or soliciting business, engaging in other persistent courses of conduct and/or deriving substantial revenue from goods and services provided to individuals in this district.

THE PATENT

9. United States Patent No. 7,067,952 is entitled “Stator assembly made from a molded web of core segments and motor using same,” and issued June 27, 2006 to inventor Griffith D. Neal. The ’952 Patent issued from United States Patent Application No. 10/383,219 filed on March 5, 2003. The ’952 Patent claims priority to U.S. Patent No. 7,036,207 filed on March 2, 2001. A copy of the ’952 Patent is attached as Exhibit 1.

10. IV is the lawful assignee and owner of all right, title, and interest in and to the ’952 Patent.

INFRINGEMENT OF THE PATENT-IN-SUIT

11. Denso has infringed and continues to infringe at least one of IV's patents that cover aspects of electric motors and other products, including, without limitation the Denso Power Steering Motor with Toyota part number 89650-33680 (the "Exemplary Denso Product").

12. IV incorporates by reference in its allegations herein certain claim charts comparing exemplary claims of the Patent-in-Suit to the Exemplary Denso Product.

15. Paragraphs 1 through 14 are incorporated by reference as if fully restated herein.

16. IV is the assignee and lawful owner of all right, title and interest in and to the '952 Patent.

17. The '952 Patent is valid and enforceable.

18. Denso has infringed, and is still infringing, the '952 Patent in at least this District by making, using, offering to sell, selling and/or importing Accused Products that infringe at least claims 10 and 12 of the '952 Patent (the "Exemplary '952 Patent Claims") literally or by the doctrine of equivalents.
